

The ARISTOTLE-eENHSP project has been launched!

ARISTOTLE-eENHSP
enhanced European Natural Hazard Scientific Partnership

Date:

Monday, November 9, 2020 - 18:15

The new 4-years ARISTOTLE-eENHSP project, comprising 16 European institutions and 2 international organisations, has been launched with date 1st November 2020.

ARISTOTLE-eENHSP will continue to provide a unique worldwide multi-hazard scientific advice service to the European Commission's Emergency Response Coordination Center (ERCC) @eu_echo for Disaster Risk Reduction #DRR.

The project will also have the goal to consolidate and expand both the operational service components/hazards and the Partnership with the final aim to establish a truly permanent pan-European Natural Hazards Scientific Partnership.
